To whom it may concern,

As a Saint Paul resident, I voted for Mayor Kaohly Her. I've quickly lost faith in her administration over its decision to close encampments citywide, starting with the Pig's Eye Park encampment, and the way it handled calls from local officials to delay that closure. I'm also disappointed in Assistant Mayor Cedrick Baker, who led the city's unsheltered response.

My confidence has fallen further since Police Chief Axel Henry filed a formal complaint alleging that Mayor Her directed inappropriate sexual comments and conduct toward him and other city employees. The allegations are under independent investigation, but taxpayers should not be expected to fund the mayor's personal legal defense. Please clarify whether public money is paying for her legal representation and explain the basis for that decision.

Warmest Regards,

Anthony L. Moss, Ed.M., MAT
